Wanted.
Beeswax wanted in large and small quantities. Highest market price, paid by
R. B. HARMAN,
At the Dispatch Office.

Communion Services.
July 17, at St. Johns, at 11 a. m.
July 24, at Providence, at 11 a. m.
July 16, service and Council meeting at St. Johns, at 2:30 p. m.
No service at Providence on the 2nd Sabbath afternoon of July.

Cash in Advance.
No applications for administration on estates will be published in the Dispatch unless paid for in advance by parties applying to the Judge of Probate for such letters. Take due notice and come prepared.

No Politic.
Everyone likes to get big dividends on his investments, and this fact being recognized by T. B. Angbury & Co., they give you the big dividends in low prices of all kinds of groceries and provisions at the time you make your purchases. Try them and you will be surprised and delighted.

Will Run the Race.
We are requested by Dr. J. W. Eargle to say that he has decided to run as candidate for the Legislature, as announced, and that he will devote such time as he can spare from his practice to canvassing on this side of Saluda river.

The C. N. and L. Stockholders.
The meeting of the stockholders of the C. N. and L. Railroad Company, which was to have been held in Columbia yesterday, was adjourned until Saturday next at 12 m., as there was not a quorum present.

Peterson's Magazine.
The August "Peterson" is the finest number we have ever seen of this popular magazine. It opens with two very fine engravings, both being artistic gems. "Ivory-Work" describes the newest fad in embroidery, and the directions for doing it are rendered still clearer by good illustrations. "Dorothy's Devices," by Minna Irving, will be worth everything to girls who want to learn how to dress tastefully on limited means. "The Hermit of the Hacienda," by Will Lisenberg, deserves special mention among the stories, though they are all capital. "Uses for Odds and Ends," by Cornelia Redmond, shows a fertility of resource amounting to genius. These paragraphs will give an idea of "Peterson's" variety and excellence. Terms, $2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months. A sample number will be sent for five cents. Address Peterson's Magazine, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

County Campaign Days.
Irmo, Thursday, August 11th.
Spring Hill, Friday, August 12th.
Pine Ridge, Saturday, August 13th.
Boylston Academy, Friday, 26th.
Lexington, Saturday, August, 27.

Early Risers, Early Risers, Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, sick headache, dyspepsia, a mild nervousness. Sold by J. W. Long.

A fresh lot in the river last week damaged a good portion of the bottom corn.

Mr. Frank Smith is putting up a modern dwelling for Mr. E. B. Roof, opposite Mr. James E. Rawl's shop.

If you don't know that P. O. Ransom's, Columbia, is the place to get the cheapest groceries in that city, it is your fault.

Mr. Paul Corley, who lives near Red Bank, has our thanks for two splendid heads of cabbage, which are an average specimen of two acres which he has in cultivation.

Yes, "Let the Responsibility Fall Where it Belongs."

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

From my youth up I have been taught by a pious mother to respect—to revere—the holy office of a minister of the gospel; and it is this early training and habit of thought that act as a short check rein upon the old Adam just here preventing an immoderate use of strong, emphatic language, and constraining me to carefully weigh my words. If "a cobbler should stick to his last" and a farmer to his farm, (the inquiry is irresistible) should not a minister stick to the truth (to his calling) and not be led by the devil to endorse a lie that he (the devil) himself had forged in his own workshop within the skull of "a poor, misguided fool" of an editor? Dr. Stokes never said Union soldiers "should have added to their pension bills a gold premium pay roll." We deny it and call for the proof. Until this is done I forbear noticing any personal allusions to myself.

I pass on to the next slanderous "statement"—a wholesale slander. This "I venture the statement that idleness, extravagance and mismanagement on the farm is the cause of whatever disadvantage financially attends the farmers today." Senator Voorhees replied to a similar statement thus: "The hard handed, sun burnt millions who raise their daily tasks while the morning star is yet in the sky, and toil for a subsistence till the evening star appears, are constantly lectured on the virtues of economy by the dwellers in palaces, by the inmates of gilded mansions, by the masters of liveried attendants, by the lords of millions, by all such as derive their incomes and their luxuries from the labor and the privation of others. The poor are exhorted to give up luxuries which they have not, in order that the rich may add to their already great abundance. Go to the houses of those who eat their bread in the sweat of their faces, and ascertain if you can the extravagances in which they indulge. Do they maintain costly equipages, splendid carriages and richly caparisoned horses? Are their humble dwellings adorned with valuable paintings, or fitted up with expensive furniture? Do you see pier glass on their walls and felt velvet carpets beneath your feet on their floors? Take a seat with them at their frugal but hospitable tables. Do you find extravagance there? Where is the solid silverware, the long succession of delicate dishes, the various brands of high priced wines? None of these things are found to tempt the epicurean taste of those who, while preaching economy to the industrial class, are themselves down each day to banquets such as Dives presided over while Lazarus lay at his gates begging bread."

I could well afford to stop here, but there is one thing more "J. E." says: "We are farmers," &c. (I dislike to be personal, or to ask pointed questions.) Is "J. E." a farmer, and no "disadvantage financially attends" him? Is he rich? And if not, why not? Is it due to idleness, extravagance and mismanagement? or what? Why is cotton so cheap? "Over-production" is the stereotyped answer, you know. Over production by "idleness, extravagance and mismanagement" isn't that beautifully logical and consistent? I conclude that "J. E." favors Mr. Brawley for Congress. If he will please tell me why, I will tell him why I favor Dr. Stokes. I challenge him to the issue.

Selwood, S. C. J. L. SHULER.

Don't forget to attend Drafts and Corley's barbecue tomorrow, if you want to enjoy a good dinner.

The entertainment at the residence of Mr. W. P. Roof's last evening, given by the young folks, was highly enjoyed. Special mention would do injustice where all did so well. The receipts were satisfactory and will be given to the Ladies' Aid Society.

They are even naming babies for Ben Tillman in Anderson county.

Oconee farmers are making extensive experiments with the cultivation of tobacco, and are much pleased with the results so far.

The taxable poll list, as required by an Act of the General Assembly, is being published in several counties in the State.

An enthusiastic Sheppardite of Anderson county, says: "Let everybody holler hurrah for Sheppard and they can get the grass out of their cotton."

The first car load of watermelons shipped from Johnston, Edgefield county, was by Mr. Luther Clark, on Tuesday last week.

On the outside of this issue will be found a letter of Gen. Hampton criticizing some utterances of Gov. Tillman. The Dispatch publishes it without comment.

It is said campaign thunder documents are in the land. Don't be deceived by too much taffy. Think and act for yourself.

Greek meets Greek today at Summit. Maj. Brawley's friends are working like beavers and claim that Dr. Stokes will not have a walk over in this county, and are warmly contesting every foot of the ground, but we shall see what we will see.

The State Democratic Executive Committee will meet in Columbia on the 26th instant, to consider important business of the Campaign.

The country Democratic clubs in Edgefield, composed mostly of farmers, are passing resolutions denying that there is any third partyism in that county.

The President has withdrawn the nomination of Dr. Crum, a negro, whom he appointed Postmaster at Charleston, from the Senate.

Senator Irby takes issue with Gov. Tillman in his agreement with Mr. Sheppard in reference to the division of the board of managers, and expresses a hope that "the County Executive Committees that have not acted upon the managers to the primary election will repudiate the agreement." Tillman is right. Let us have a free ballot and a fair count.

we are fed with soft corn in order to be choked with the cob. Fellow-citizen, this is just the situation. Tillman is unmercifully blamed for his action in the Coosaw matter and yet the highest court in our country has said that he was right. The Coosaw was a big monopoly that wanted everything its own way so that the people would have to render obedience to its acts. When Tillman fights Coosaw he fights for the people, and when he is blamed for hoisting this giant monopoly it is only another way to try to keep down the people. Be not deceived. There are many ways to whip the old adversary around the stump.

Again, Tillman is held out as a monster on account of his action in the Agricultural Hall matter. He is blamed for not receiving Blue Ridge Railroad Scrip in payment for the State's building, and for refusing possession on those grounds. And yet, if Tillman had received this worthless stuff in payment, the people would have been called upon to redeem thousands of dollars worth of fraudulent bonds. Be not deceived; Tillman is being shot at in order that the people may be hit.

Tillman is charged with injuring the State's credit. Here is another error. The opposition is sending out broadcast in the world that everything in South Carolina is wrong side up; that the Governor is opposed to all lawful enterprises, and by this means the State bonds are run down below par. The policy is to get rid of Tillman even if the State has to suffer. Friends, be not deceived; "All is not gold that glitters." It was said sometime ago that "light was just beginning to dawn in Lexington." Let us take that expression in a different sense to that which it was meant. Let us show a solid front that the light may shine in other sections where it has not yet even dawned.

But is it not terrible that Tillman should presume to criticize one of our Judges! Wonder what will turn up next! Well, here is a little. The opposition is very much opposed to prohibition because it comes in conflict with the personal rights and liberties of the people. But then the highest court in our country has said that a State has a right to enforce prohibition. But, of course, prohibition does not suit, therefore it is condemned in the strongest terms. But when Ben Tillman attempts to criticize Judges he commits an unpardonable sin. "Oh consistency, thou art a jewel!" Be not deceived. If Ben Tillman has no right to say aught against a Judge, then the people have no right. Under such a course about the only right left the people is to meekly submit to the few aristocrats that they may get the power in the hands of a few at the expense of the many. Let us take Uncle Jake's advice, "Lexington expects every man to do his duty."

Be Not Deceived.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

Will the people of Lexington county and South Carolina be careless and negligent and allow the government to be wrested from them and placed in the hands of those who are spending all their talent and money at their command in order to defeat the will of the people? Is such the case? If any doubt, let them read the opposition papers and they cannot fail to see the situation.

A powerful effort is being made to defeat Tillman, and why? Is it because Tillman has not made a good Governor? Is it because he has proved a traitor to South Carolina? No. It is because he represents the will of the people. It is because he has the courage to defend the interest of the people. Let us weigh the facts in the case and see if these things are so. Over one-half of the editorial comments of the opposition, is fired directly at Tillman. He is always wrong; is always out of place and is unfit to be Governor of the State. And what are the facts? Are not the public official acts of Tillman on record? Has he not opposed trusts and monopolies in the interest of the people? And when he is so severely criticized for these things, it is plain that the will of the people is being criticized, though Tillman is the target.

The people are all right. Oh! the dear people's rights and interests! Who could say aught against them? We are the people's friends! But Tillman we don't like. He, in the first place, has not enough sense to be Governor. Yes; but we are looking for a Governor who represents the people and not monopolies, and such a man is Tillman, and therefore

The store of J. C. Watson, at Ridge Spring, Edgefield county, was robbed on the night of July 13th. A reward of $100 was offered for the capture of the robber, and in a few hours thereafter he was arrested.

A correspondent of the Johnston Monitor, writing from Batesburg, this county, says: "The melon crop in that section is poor, but some of the melons will begin to ship soon."

It has been stated that the Johnston post office will change hands very soon.

Meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

The County Democratic Executive Committee of Lexington county met on the 11th., and called to order by Chairman Crosson. The Clerk called the roll and it was ascertained that there was present a quorum.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Clerk to arrange printed instructions for the managers at the primary election; also to have printed four (4,000) thousand blank tickets as prescribed by the State Constitution.

A petition was handed in by the Committeemen of the Conservatives of this county, S. P. Wingard, asking to have appointed two of their managers at each precinct.

Mr. Sharpe moved to give them one as Tillman and Sheppard had agreed to a division. This motion was agreed to.

Col. A. Mims, the Committeeman from Black Creek, tendered his resignation on account of his bad health. Mr. Isaiah Hallman was elected to fill the vacancy.

SPRING CLOTHING

Is now ready for your inspection. I am prepared to show you a large stock of spring clothing, cut out in the latest styles and made of the latest fabrics and patterns out of season. The wood brown in each suit are the favorites, besides many other patterns in Cheviots, Cassimers and Serges. These goods are also made in One Button and Three Button Outfits elegantly trimmed. I ask for your trade this season, feeling that our clothing cannot fail to be mutually profitable and satisfactory. In the first place my new line of goods for the season is no sound and substantial as to quality and value as to leave no room for dissatisfaction on the part of the buyer.

The honest merit of these goods is an effective appeal to the good judgment of the customer who realizes that nothing is cheap which does not possess sterling worth proportionate to the price asked. My prices are the lowest that can be found for good honest goods. It is the lowest in the land.

HATS.

This Department is full of choice goods in all the leading shapes and colors. The styles of stiff and soft hats are very much changed in shape from last season and no doubt
